

A $10,000 FIRE AT MEADOWLANDS

Two Residences Are Consumed By the Flames — The Loss Sustained Will Be Partially Covered By Insurance

OTHER HOUSES IN DANGER

The Fire Is the Third Serious One to Occur At the Mining Town, Which Is Located About Four Miles North of Washington, Within a Few Months

Fire at Meadowlands Saturday night caused a loss estimated at $10,000, when two houses burned to the ground, the conflagration being the third serious one to occur at the mining town, about four miles north of Washington, within a period of a few months. The loss will be partially covered by insurance.

The homes of Samuel Woods and Claire Surins, both two-story frame structures, were destroyed in their entirety, and while the origin of the flames is said to be unknown, it is alleged they started in the second floor of the Woods home. Both houses were owned by August Pinho.

Two adjoining residences, the homes of William Kneopp and August Pittko, were badly scorched and the glass in them broken by the heat. Neither of them was damaged seriously. The fact that the roofs of many of the houses were of slate, undoubtedly averted greater damage.

The flames, when discovered, were gaining headway so rapidly that the fire departments of Washington and Canonsburg were summoned. The water supply at Meadowlands not being so arranged that hose could be used, Fire Chief Pat Curran of Washington, stationed the chemical apparatus at the corner of Miners' hall to save that structure from damage, and started a bucket brigade working on the adjoining buildings, saving them from damage other than broken windows and scorched walls.

NOTICE.

Owing to the fact that 749 children will appear in "The House That Jack Built" which will be given on Thursday and Friday of this week, patrons desiring to attend should purchase tickets early.

Tickets will be on sale after Monday noon and reservations will be made Wednesday, April 30, at the High School at 4 o'clock. Tickets for both nights will be exchanged at the same time. 2761*

PRESIDENT AND SENATE
President Coolidge's difficulties with the Senate are matters of current comment and President Wilson's are still fresh in memory. We are apt to think of it as modern, but conflict between the two co-ordinate branches of the Federal government, each jealous of its ordained prerogatives, dates back to the very first administration. In his memoirs John Quincy Adams says that after an unpleasant experience in the Senate chamber, President Washington declared "he would be damned if he ever went there again." When Washington appeared and took the Vice-President's chair, according to the "Journal" of Senator Maclay, "he rose and told us quietly that he had called on us for our advice and consent to some propositions respecting the treaty to be held with the Southern Indians." He asked for immediate action, but the Senators wanted time, believing, according to Maclay, there there could be no fair investigation while Washington sat there "to overawe the timid and neutral part of the Senate." So it was proposed that the documents be referred to a committee, but this caused the President "to start up in a violent fret" and state that he had the proposition defeated his entire purpose in coming there. After some discussion Washington withdrew "with a discontented air," Maclay reporting further that had it been any other "than the man whom I wish to regard as the first character in the world, I would have said, with sullen indignity." Speaking in regard to the whole affair and the situation in general, the same reporter ventured the assertion that "the President wishes to tread on the neck of the Senate." Being a Senator, Maclay was obviously influenced by Senatorial prejudice in writing his account, which nevertheless is of importance as showing how ancient is the Executive-Senate conflict so noticeably persisting in our own time.

FOUR SUSPECTS ARE RELEASED

Joe Russo, Thomas Caruso, Russell Revetta and Andy Lucas, four residents of Monongahela, who were arrested by Allegheny county detectives under the direction of Chief Braun on Wednesday were released yesterday. The men were charged with conspiracy in connection with the alleged attempt to hold up the noon train on the Pennsylvania railroad at Mesta on March 5 and steal the $400,000 payroll of the Carnegie Steel company plant at Clairton. After being held for two days and following many hours of questioning they were all released as nothing could be found to substantiate the charges against them. Each of the men returned to Monongahela yesterday having been entirely freed of the charge of which they were suspected. Tarko Burchianti, of Fredericktown, this county, who was arrested March 26 in West Homestead in connection with the alleged conspiracy to steal the $400,000 payroll from the train, was held for court trial on charges of larceny and pointing firearms, at a hearing Saturday before Alderman F. T. Galleran, of Pittsburgh. He was remanded to jail.

TWO HURT BY AN AUTOMOBILE

Several persons were injured two so seriously that they were rushed to hospitals for treatment when Robert D. Hall, aged 32, of McDonald, losing control of his automobile, dashed into a crowd of 25 to 30 persons who had collected at the scene of an automobile accident at McGovern last night. A. E. Miller, aged 42, of Canonsburg, was the most seriously injured and was taken to the Canonsburg hospital. He had three ribs broken and apparently had been internally injured. William McNulty, who resides near the Children's Home, was badly bruised and cut and was taken to the Washington hospital. Others were slightly hurt but did not require the attention of a physician. Highway Patrolman James T. Haney was quickly on the scene and conducted an investigation. Hall and his friends claim that he had been blinded by the lights of another car. He had not been drinking.

"At bottom there is nothing in the present situation to cause alarm for the sound soul of America has never yet failed her in a crisis. But there is a tremendous lesson to be learned and a tremendous responsibility to be admitted. Let us capitalize the revelations being made. Let us instill into our younger generation a patriotism so sound and a love of right so fearless, as to make impossible any repetition of the official travesty which has so lately rocked our country."
"With these things in mind, I call upon all good citizens to lend their hearty efforts to make Boys' Week a success and to cooperate with the National Boys' Week committee in every way possible. High and low, rich and poor, of every creed and race—these are our boys and the American citizens of a few years hence. We cannot do too much for them."

HUSBAND BEATS HIS BRIDE OF 3 MONTHS

Ben Poratto, 302 Shady avenue, will have a hearing before Burgess J. Bryant Tussing this evening at 7 o'clock on a charge preferred by his three-months-bride, who said this morning that Ben has already beaten her on two different occasions. Poratto was arrested at 11:40 o'clock last night by Officers Corey and Peters. Mrs. Poratto is a comely Italian girl, born of Italian parents in this country and apparently about 18 years of age. Mik e Baer is accused of being drunk on Saturday afternoon, his arrest being effected by Chief of Police James A. Murphy. He will have his hearing before the Burgess this evening at o'clock. Oliver Pegg is accused of being drunk and disorderly, and left a forfeit in the sum of $27 for his hearing tonight at 7 o'clock. The arresting officer was Frank Jones.

A man who was parking on the wrong side of the street, not in conformity with traffic rules and regulations, will have his hearing, with others, alleged guilty of the same offense, Wednesday night before Burgess J. Bryant Tussing.

Quiet Nights in Paris

Outside of certain strips and centers where arteries of travel cross, Paris has no night life, says Scribner's. In a good 2,500 of her 2,722 streets one gets the impression that everybody has gone to bed, and, at 10, that all the inhabitants have either moved to the country or died. In the little cafes and restaurants of my quarter, as it draws toward 10 the waiters begin to regard you with an evil eye, and at 10 they pile up the chairs on the empty tables and begin to sweep the floor. Even in the larger ones which keep open an hour or two longer you experience, at 11 o'clock, the very disagreeable sensation of the man in the old song who felt "like one who treads alone some banquet hall deserted."

GIRL'S SLAYER IS TO PAY PENALTY AT A PRISON

Philadelphia, April 28.—(United Press)—Wylie Morgan, convicted slayer of Lillian Gilmore, six-year-old Philadelphia girl, will be electrocuted at the Bellefonte penitentiary today. The killing took place February 24, 1923, and Morgan was convicted April 13, 1923. Since then his conviction has been delayed twice by Governor Pinchot. On April 7 the Republican women of Pennsylvania passed a resolution asking the governor to allow the conviction without further delay. This action is believed to have influenced the governor not to postpone the execution again.

The "Fighting Irish" Of Homestead, Will Be Here On Wednesday

The Catholic Men's Club of Homestead will be the attraction for the opening game here. This team is known as "The Fighting Irish Of Homestead" and will lift the lid here on Wednesday, the contest to be called at 4 p. m.

Beatty, Latriam and Gannon will be in the points for the home club, while the battery for the visitors will be Welch and Zemler.

PIRATES ARE BEATEN ON A MUDDY FIELD

On a muddy field yesterday in a game which should have not been played, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pirates, at Chicago, by a score of 4-2. The contest was featured by a home run by Barnhart. Manager McKechnie, owing to the fact that Cooper is suffering from tonsillitis, was obliged to throw two of his recruit pitchers into the gap, but both of them gave a good account of themselves, as they held the hustling Cubs to six hits. Kaufmann, for the Cubs, was equally effective, as the Pirates were able to glean but six hits from his fast delivery.

The Pirates will play again in Chicago today.

DEMARCO AND HORVATH ARE TO BOX WEDNESDAY

There are certain ring opponents, the very mention of whose names as likely to get together in the same ring, causes the fans to sit up and take notice, because they expect something thrilling to develop.

This is true of Cuddy Demarco and Johnny Horvath, who have just been matched for the 10-round main bout of the Majestic club show next Wednesday evening at the Palisades rink, McKeesport.

There is perfect reason for the fans anticipating a scrap of the first magnitude. These worthies met recently in the Tube City, when Horvath, a Mansfield, O., boy took the place of Jimmy Brady of Detroit at the last moment.

In fact, it was 10 o'clock the night before the fight that he was approached, and he accepted without hesitation. More than that, he gave Demarco one of the toughest fights of his career. The judges gave the verdict to Demarco.

Ever since then there has been a general demand for another meeting between the pair, and the Majestic club has arranged it, confident that it will result in a great scrap, and that it will attract one of the largest crowds of the season.

Horvath is a real ringster, a lad who knows nothing but fight. He wades into an opponent from the tap of the gong and keeps everlastingly at it. He is a splendid foil for Demarco, and, with both in good condition, the fans should be treated to a battle that will make them stand

GAME AT ALLENPORT IS CALLED OFF BY MANAGER HEN WILSON

The scheduled baseball game between the Valley Independents and Beaver Falls for yesterday afternoon at Allenport, was called off Saturday night by Manager Hen Wilson of the Independents, after Mr. Wilson had been notified by the county detectives that the contest would be stopped, provided an attempt was made to play.

Baseball on Sundays is also banned in Fayette county, and indications are that the fans will be deprived of seeing baseball on Sundays in this county.

TAKE SENATOR FIGHT TO COURT

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 28.—(United Press).—The contest for the Republican nomination for state senator will be taken to the courts, counsel for Harry Butts said today following the action of the county commissioners in accepting practically entirely the county returns which gave Patrick F. Joyce, of Pittston, a lead of 517 votes. Joyce won the Democratic nomination.

The fight has been one of the hottest ever known in the local primaries. Dozens of ballot boxes were impounded and guards have watched the returns for several days. Attorneys for Butts entered objections to forty districts, charging fraud and irregularities but they were ignored, it is alleged.

Tea and Cigarettes. English novels are always drenched with tea, and in American novels the characters are always lighting cigarettes.

Advancing the Best Test

Adversity is to friendship what fire is to gold—the only infallible test to discover the genuine from the counterfeit.

A Snob.

He who forgets his own friends merely to follow after those of a higher degree is a snob.—Thackeray.
